

Volume 1 | Issue 11
28 April 2022

Write-on Newsletter

Listowel Writers' Week Coming Soon!

Some of our members will attend Listowel Writers' Week in June. We've enrolled in a three-day workshop: 'Writing a Novel' with Bernie McGill.

Writing exercises will focus on: structuring a novel, writing openings with impact, developing setting, creating credible characters, and refining point of view.

We will bring samples of our own work so that we will receive practical advice relevant to our needs.

We pay for our own accommodation. Write-on will give assistance towards the costs of workshops.

ONE DOUBLE ROOM still available in Listowel for members who are interested.

KERRY - Heritage Town of Listowel
Entire home/flat hosted by John & Betty Wade

Tuesday
May 31, 2022

Saturday
June 4, 2022

Share

Please forward this Newsletter to other people who are interested in writing.

Contact

Writeon.galway@gmail.com

WOWO 28 April 2022

(What's On Write-on this week)

Genre	Title	Author
Mug of the Month April 2022	A Fanfare for Spring So You Shoot? Our Common Home Shoot and Stand Small Beginnings Social Skills The Last Note The Green Little Shoots Three Men in a Tower Timeout!	Frank Fahy Anne McManus Richard O'Donnell James Conway Anne Murray Mary Rose Tobin Nollaig O'Donnell Elizabeth Hannon Joanne Dowling Judith Geoghegan
Chapter 01	Swimming Through Walls	Tony Monaghan
Section One	New Short Story	Frank Fahy
Update on Novel	The Stained Collar	Seamus Keogh
Update on Novel	The Normal Couple	Jutta Rosen
Anthology 2023	Review of Contents	All members

Reading by Writer Tony Monaghan

We are delighted to welcome Tony Monaghan to give a reading from his novel Swimming Through Walls. Tony and Frank soldiered through many publishing projects during our years working in Dublin. Tony is a great example to any writer. He has been known to write on trains, planes and automobiles. (I hope he wasn't driving at the time!)

He will share some insights into a lifetime's love of writing, and we look forward to hearing him read from his work in progress.

Zoom

Sessions every Thursday
7pm - 9pm

Website

www.write-on.ie