New Website Design

Those of you who frequently visit our website will notice some changes over the coming weeks.

We are in the process of modernising our on-line appearance and making the whole experience a lot more user-friendly.

Feedback about our previous website indicated that there were far too many items listed in the menus – this made it appear complicated to locate the exact page you were looking for.

The number of items in the menus has been reduced and we hope that the individual pages will meet with your satisfaction.

If you have anything to contribute to the website please contact us.

Write-on Challenges

Our series of Write-on Challenges has proven very popular with our members. Last week, Mary Rose Tobin's entry was voted the most popular.

This week, we have Challenge 03, which is about Character Development. We look forward to a lively contest!
